

Jennifer Gohlke – Michigan State University

Intermediality as Prosthetic Memory

-

The Case of the United States Holocaust
Museum

United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

Peter Novick

What still united the American Jews was “the knowledge that but for their parents' or (more often) grandparents' [...] immigration, they would have shared the fate of European Jewry.”

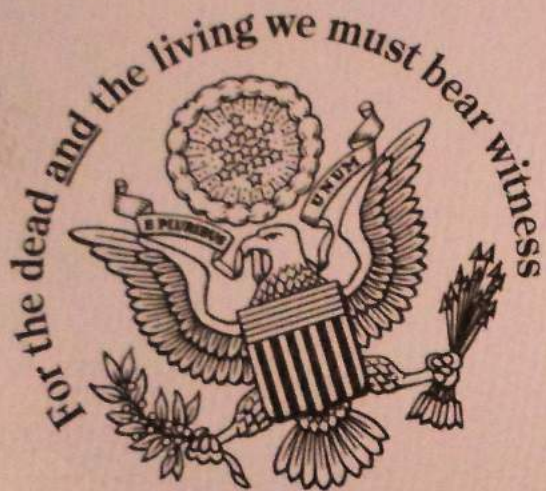

(Novick, The Holocaust in American Life)

USHMM – Mission Statement

- Advance and Disseminate Knowledge About the Holocaust
- Preserve the Memory of Those Who Suffered
- Encourage Visitors to Reflect upon Moral and Spiritual Questions Raised by the Holocaust
- Reflect upon One's Own Responsibilities

(ushmm.org)

IDENTIFICATION CARD

United States
Holocaust Memorial Museum

Name: Ruth Elisabeth Dahl (Greifer)
Date of Birth: May 30, 1922
Place of Birth: Geilenkirchen,
Germany

Ruth was born into an orthodox Jewish family in Geilenkirchen, a rural German town near the Dutch border. Her father, Isidor, was a respected cattle dealer in the area and her mother, Sophia, took care of the home. Ruth had two older siblings, Edith and Carl.

Please turn page at end of 4th floor.

Intermediality

- Within the Humanities:
 - Usually Refers to the Relations Between Literature, Visual Arts, and Music
- In This Presentation:
 - Refers to the Relations Between Anything That Mediates Information, Emotions or Ideas.

Authentic Artifacts

Textual Components

← Affidavit by Auschwitz Commander Rudolf Hoess Overstating the Number of People Killed in the Camp

Ich erkläre hiermit an Eidesstatt dass im den Jahren 1941 bis 1945
während meiner Amtszeit als Kommandant
des K. L. Auschwitz 2 Millionen
Juden durch Vergasung und ca.
10 Millionen auf andere Weise zu Tode gebracht worden.

Ung. 14. 5. 1946 Rudolf Hoess

The above was written signed before me at Nuremberg, Germany on May 19, 1946

Josephine
Chief, Analytical Section
Interrogations Division
Office of U. S. Chief of Counsel

Raoul Wallenberg, Swedish Diplomat – Led extensive Rescue Effort by Issuing “Protective Passports”

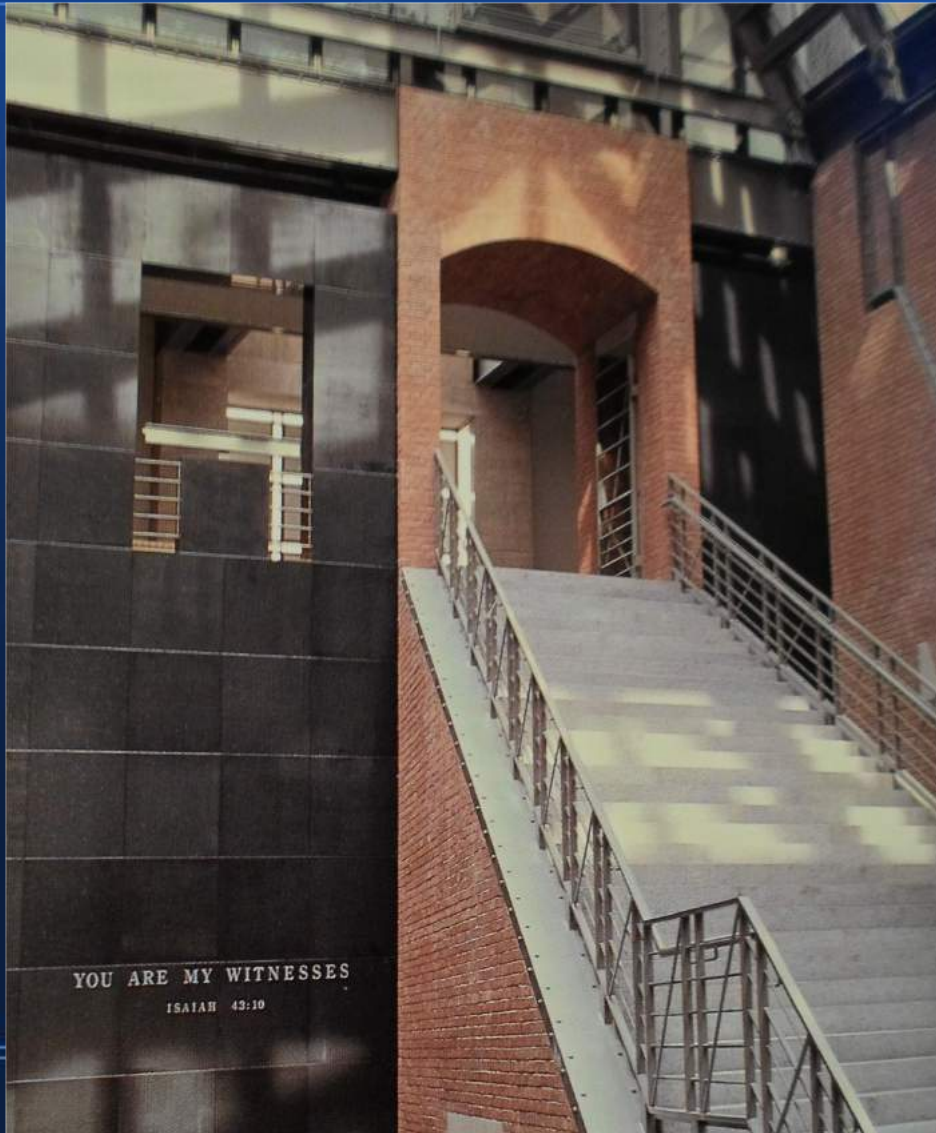

Visual Components

Photographs, Books, Posters displaying Works and Ideas on “Racial Studies”

Architecture

← Staircase in the Hall of Witness

Brick Gate at Auschwitz-Birkenau

James Ingo Freed - Architect

“Abstraction in architectural design operates 'as a vehicle for a certain kind of memory - a memory that remains open, fluid, and above all highly personal and subjective'”

(Freed, Architect of the USHMM Building)

Prosthetic Memory

Prosthetic Memory refers to a kind of artificial memory that emerges when "a person does not simply apprehend a historical narrative but takes on a more personal, deeply felt memory of a past event through which he or she did not live."

(Landsberg, Prosthetic Memory)

Complicates the Notion of Intermediality

Intermediality as being “prone to confusing the otherwise stable temporalities and historical contingencies of works of art and literature”

(untimelinessofmedia.tumblr.com)